PREMIER BALDWIN TELLS COMMONS OF GRAVITY SITUATION

SAYS GOVERNMENT CHALLENGED BY AN ALTERNATIVE GOVERNMENT

By Associated Press.

London, May 3.—Premier Baldwin today told the House of Commons that as a result of the order for a general strike at midnight tonight, the government finds itself challenged by an alternative government.

The premier declared that the labor leaders ordering the strike were threatening the basis of orderly government and were nearer to proclaiming war than Great Britain has been for centuries.

Further talking would be wrong, the premier said, unless the government got immediate and unconditional withdrawal of instructions for the general strike.

He became convinced last night, he asserted, that A. Pugh, chairman of the Trades Union Congress, and his colleagues were no longer in control of the situation within their own ranks.

The premier said that it was no use disguising the facts of the seriousness of the situation with words that conceal the truth.

He did not believe that there had been a thorough consultation with the rank and file of the Trades Union Council before the power of calling a general strike had been put into the hands of a small group of executives in convention.

This, he felt, was a gross travesty on every democratic principle.

"The only light hearts in the country today are those who either envy or hate us, because they see the whole of democratic freedom entering on a course which if successful can only substitute tyranny," he said.

"It is not wages that are in peril but the freedom of our very constitution.

"Everything for which I have worked for two years (and for which I care at this moment has been smashed to atoms, but that does not take away my faith or courage in my aims."

J. H. Thomas, secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, who spoke after the Premier, declared passionately that there was still a solution for the situation.

"Whatever the result of, the strike," he said, "any man is a blind idiot and a fool who does not see that the economic facts of the coal position will remain. There was no other course open to labor but to strike."

Mr. Lloyd George despaired of the situation, except through parliamentary action. He declared that the members of the Trades Union Congress who ordered the strike, were as little revolutionary as any one in the House of Commons and that the government could well continue the negotiations without loss of rights or positions.

Cupid Suffers Result Strike.

By Associated Press.

Cardiff, Wales, May 3.—Cupid is already hard hit by the coal crisis. Numerous miners in Wales, Lancashire, Durham, New Castle and other districts have postponed their weddings owing to the gloomy outlook. Instances are reported where food and wine provided for wedding festivities have been stored away for the difficult times which the miners now see before them.

Troops Landed at Liverpool.

London, May 3.—One thousand troops were landed at Liverpool today and proceeded to the famous Aintree race course. They are being held in readiness to move to any part of Lancashire at a moment's notice.

Compositors Refuse to Set Copy.

By Associated Press.

London, May 3.—The compositors on the Evening Standard-Star and Daily News today declined to set copy which they considered harmful to labor's cause and went to consult their union chiefs. Early editions of the afternoon papers appeared, but the others were held up pending the union's decision.

Workmen Still Hopeful.

By Associated Press.

London, May 3.—A basis for settlement of the general strike can still be reached if the negotiations are resumed, says a statement issued this afternoon by the council of the Trades Union Congress. The statement followed a joint meeting of the council, the parliamentary labor party, and the miners' legislative.

Continuance Subsidy Impossible.

By Associated Press.

London, May 3.—Premier Baldwin told the House of Commons this afternoon that continuance of the governmental subsidy to the coal industry was out of the question.

United States Commissioner Dies.

Fort Worth, Texas, May 3.—The body of B. V. Gibson, aged 55, United States Commissioner, who died unexpectedly here yesterday, was sent to Mineral Wells today for burial there this afternoon. He had been in ill health for years.

GENERAL STRIKE IN ALL INDUSTRIES EXPECTED MIDNIGHT

GOVERNMENT NEGOTIATIONS WITH TRADES UNION CONGRESS BROKEN OFF

By Associated Press.

London, May 3.—Great Britain at midnight tonight faces the grave domestic menace which has overhung the nation since the fall of the Stuart Dynasty. This is a general strike which it is estimated will call out immediately some 1,405,000 men to join the 1,120,000 coal miners, who went on strike at midnight Friday.

The crisis culminated early today when the government announced that its negotiations with the Trade Union Congress in an endeavor to prevent a walkout of the workers in various trades had broken down. The announcement said the government would decline to reopen the negotiations unless the Congress withdrew its order for a general strike and repudiated other overt acts which were described as challenging the constitutional rights and freedom of the nation.

On behalf of the workers it was declared that their efforts to obtain an honorable settlement had been wrecked by the government's unprecedented ultimatum and that the negotiations for peace were ended.

Surprise was expressed that the government had summarily ended the pourparlers before giving the trade unionists time to investigate the overt acts, which included a walkout by the printers of the Daily Mail. The printers refused to set up an editorial on the strike entitled "For King and Country," which said, "a general strike cannot be tolerated by any civilized government."

The general strike call affects all of the transport services except those dealing with foodstuffs.

To meet the emergency the government has made elaborate preparations. The country is divided into ten districts, each under a civil commissioner with large staffs of officials. These assume complete control of public necessities.

Apparently, trade unions proposals to run food trains and transportation of other necessities will not be considered.

The work of looking after the nation is the government's work, said an official today. "Any one who wishes to assist is perfectly entitled to do so, but only as a private citizen and under the direction of the various civil commissioners."

A system of rationing, similar to that of war time, will be established, especially as regards fuel and light.

"There is no need for anxiety and still less for panic," declared a government official today. "If the publci will carry out loyally and unselfishly the goverment regulations regarding food, coal and oil, refrain from hoarding and face the situation courageously, their comfort and convenience will be safeguarded."

One outward sign impressing Londoners was the closing of Hyde park for use as a depot for the government's milk distribution service. The park, which is London's nearest equivalent to Central park in New York, is surrounded by high railings and all the entrances were closed and locked, except for lorries bringing in milk.

The situation in the printing industry is not quite clear. The latest statement, however, is that the special agreement between the men and the newspapers that bar a strike or a lockout, except with a fortnight's notice, are not effective in the present case, and that the printers will cease work at midnight. This will mean that there will be no newspapers during the strike. The government is prepared to meet this difficulty by taking over the radio casting service for the transmission of news and possibly also will issue daily news bulletins.

It was announced that the sending of troops into the mining region was only a precautionary measure. Reports from the coal fields showed no indication of disorder.

The council of the Trades Union Congress issued a manifesto blaming the mine owners for locking out the miners and the government for its failure to make acceptable proposals to enable the mining industry to continue without further lowering the standards of life and labor in the coal fields pending a re-organization of the industry.

REPORTED MEXICO AND BRITAIN HAVE COME TO AGREEMENT

By Associated Press.

Mexico City, May 3.—The newspapers here assert upon apparently semi-official information that the Mexican government and the British Legation have reached a mutually satisfactory agreement regarding the new petroleum law. This is taken to mean that the British will accept the petroleum regulations.

MOTHER WRECKS BOOTLEG JOINT NEAR HER HOME

By Associated Press.

San Antonio, May 3.—Prohibition law enforcement took on a new angle today when a mother appeared at the detective bureau here and told officers she made a successful raid against an alleged bootlegging headquarters near her home.

The woman's anger toward the place became so great after three "jelly beans" took her 14-year-old daughter there and got her intoxicated on beer that she took the law into her own hands and single handedly, with the daughter as a guide,, literally wrecked things. She destroyed several dozen bottles of beer and large quantities of beer making equipment. Two operators of the place fled.

Austin, Texas, May 3.—Dr. Ralph Steiner, aged 67, former state health officer, who abolished the public drinking cup from Texas, was buried here at 7 o'clock this morning. He died late Sunday. Funeral services were private.

Wilkes Barre, Penn., May 3.—Between 20 and 30 persons were injured, six seriously today, when the ceiling of the Savoy Theatre, a motion picture house, collapsed. It is feared one of the injured, Andrew Dielinski, 14 years old, may die.

The crash came at the start of the second show, plaster the entire width of the theatre and approximately fifty feet in length, dropping on the heads of men, women and children.

There was a mad rush for the exits and many of the injured were hurt in the scramble to get out. Some of the most seriously injured were found by firemen still pinned in their seats by the debris.

LIGHTNING TAKES TOLL WHEN FARMERS ARE KILLED SUNDAY

LUBBOCK AND BROWN COUNTY MEN VICTIMS BOLTS LATE YESTERDAY

By Associated Press.

Lubbock, Texas, May 3.—Harry Mitchell, aged 24, Lubbock county farmer, was killed by lightning at his farm home about four miles north of Idalou about 8 o'clock Sunday night during a thunder and electrical storm that brought a heavy downpour of rain. Mitchell was in the yard attending to his poultry flock when the bolt struck him, and he died almost instantly. The body is being shipped to Cisco today for burial. A wife and one child survive.

Heavy rains fell throughout the county, accompanied by some wind, and a little hail in scattered portions, but as far as could be learned Monday morning no damage was done by the hail. Hail stones as large as hen eggs are reported to have fallen in some places.

Rain to the amount of .86 of an inch fell here during the night, with a light mist still falling this morning.

Brownwood, Texas, May 3.—E. P. Hibler, farmer, 45 years old, was killed by lightning at his home two and a half miles from Blanket, northeast of here, Sunday evening. He was walking over his field when the bolt struck, and was found by his family a few minutes later. Funeral services were to be held this afternoon.

LANDLORD BATTLES WITH TENANT NEAR SHERMAN SUNDAY

BOTH MEN IN SERIOUS CONDITION AS RESULT OF DUEL

By Associated Press.

Sherman, Texas, May 3.—William Jones, aged 50, land owner, and his tenant, A. J. Miller, aged 65, are both in a serious condition from wounds sustained late Sunday in a duel on the farm that Jones owns and Miller was a tenant.

Jones used a shot gun and is said to have shot Miller in the right knee at close range. Miller used an automatic .32 calibre pistol and Jones is shot through the chest and in the left leg.

The shooting is said to have followed a quarrel that started two weeks ago. Both men have families and live on the same farm. Jones was brought to a hospital here and Miller was taken to a hospital in Denison for treatment.

Denison, May 3.—The first electric storm of the season visited here last night accompanied by 2.40 inches of rain, heaviest of the year. Telephone connections within the city were slightly damaged and country roads considerably impaired.

"BUILD AND SAVE."

It has long been known that good roads are cheaper in the long run than are bad roads. The initial outlay for the construction of hard surfaced highways may seem large to some but the hard surfaced highways pay for themselves many times over and those who travel the good roads save money.

Under the caption of "Build and Save" the Kennebec Journal recently published the following concerning the value of hard surfaced roads:

"Spend money and have it; eat your cake and keep it. No? Well it sort figures out that way in this matter of building roads where the traffic is heavy.

"For instance, how much is the average operating cost per motor vehicle in Maine, including gasoline: Say $400. Well, there were 147,000 of them registered in Maine last year. Multiply and there's the not inconsiderable sum of $58,800,000 for operating costs right here at home.

"Through the State Highway Department last year there was expended for construction and maintenance of highways and bridges $6,527,000. Add that to the operating expenses of motor vehicles and get the sum of $65,327,000. If ten per cent of that could be saved that would be nearly as much as we expended last year for highways and bridges.

"Does that sound like a night after the repeal of the Volstead law? That is no dream, nor emanation from a head swathed in a wet towel.

"We sometimes wonder about the fellows we see around collecting 'data' as they tell us. They really do get together some valuable information.

"Out in the State of Iowa the data collectors, demonstrated one could drive his car over a paved road more cheaply than over a dirt road; that the saving in gasoline amounted to two and one-half cents per mile. Multiply that a few million times and see what you get.

As nearly as could be ascertained the average motor vehicle in this country consumed 509 gallons of gasoline in the year 1918; in 1923, 443 gallons. In Maine for 1924, the returns from the gas tax show the average motor vehicle consumed 410 gallons per car. Improved carburetors and lighter cars may have been some small credit in this showing but the greater part is due to better roads.

"Any driver of a motor vehicle can comprehend a very noticeable saving in driving over paved as compared with ordinary dirt roads. If he has any comprehension of mechanics he knows the depreciation of his car is much less on the better roads, when they are clear of snow.

"It is no idle dream that a saving of $20 in gas alone is possible for the average motor vehicle, driven on Maine's roads today, from the cost of the gas that would have been required fifteen years ago.

"All this does not mean there would be proportionate saving to the country as a whole where expensive roads built to accommodate small traffic. But, when we consider that in this State 53 per cent of the traffic is over the seven per cent of improved roads, it becomes evident that the cost of having the traffic-burdened highways kept in excellent conditions comes back in the savings of the motorist.

"Build as good roads as the traffic will warrant and save money!"

BETTER HOMES WEEK.

This week. April 25 to May 1, has been designated as "Better Homes Week." It is creating much interest throughout the country and is a movement in which more than 3,000 communities are conducting active campaigns.

Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, who is president of Better Homes in America, has issued the following statement in connection with the observance of Better Homes Week:

"Better Homes Week is the time when the home and its fundamental place in the nation's life are brought to the foreground, and the will for their advancement takes root in our minds. It has a spiritual and practical meaning which I hope will escape no one of us.

"More than three thousand local committees have engaged in Better Homes Campaigns for their communities this year. We expect that the men, women and children of America will take full advantage of their work and that as a result we shall make a definite advance in the standards and ideals of our housing and home life. The tremendous interest in Better Homes demonstrations in recent years, and the improvements which have followed them, have shown that the American people cherish deeply in their hearts the values of the home, and are setting about to realize them more fully.

"The local demonstration houses exhibited each year are improving in architectural qualities. Construction is being made more economical, the interior arrangement more livable, the equipment better adopted to well-ordered house keeping, and the decoration and furnishing more attractive. The Better Homes committees are making good in developing the practical art of home making, and in adapting the products of modern industry and the results of research to the individual needs of families in their communities. Their exhibits and lectures reach millions who are striving to improve their homes.

"It is largely by interchange of experience and technique that industrial arts have made such rapid advancement in America; and in home making, with the local committees doing their part, the possibilities of rapid and far-reaching development were never so great. The time is ripe for several years of prosperity have put a better standard of living within reach of millions of American families.

"Most of the programs emphasize better housing and a finer type of home life as one of the first aims of individual effort and of community life. The welfare of the home and its surroundings deserve greater recognition in the conduct of municipal affairs and in the activities of business. These are matters in which every individual and organization has opportunity to make a definite contribution to the welfare of his community and the nation as well."

CHILD HEALTH DAY.

Today, Saturday, May 1, is National Child Health Day.

President Coolidge has proclaimed it and national officials, governors and mayors have added their endorsements.

A ream of convincing statistics about the necessity of Child Health Day have been poured out. Organizations have interested themselves in the celebration and many earnest-minded men and women in charge of children have really worked to make it a success.

On the other hand, the day cannot be a success until every citizen of each community regards himself as a genuine part of the celebration.

Here is the way for you, the citizenship of Corsicana and Navarro county, to do it.

Try to bring forth just one thought, just one idea of your own, upon the subject. First try to learn something about child health conditions; drop by the public library or write to one or more of the several agencies engaged in this line of work, and ask for books or pamphlets on the subject.

On this Child Health Day, thresh out the matter you have assembled, put two and two together and try to arrive at your own conclusion.

When you do you will light a bonfire that is really worth something to the child health movement. No man is really enthusiastic about the fact that he learns, or the idea he gains from another.

He must discover his own fact—bring forth his own ideas. Then he is a real convert. If a few citizens will do this, it will be a real "day" for child health today.

Obituary of Mary E. Sutherland.

Sister Sutherland was born April 7, 1843, in Roberson county, Tenn., died Feb. 13, 1926, at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. C. H. Lyon after a long illness. She was married to John Sutherland Feb. 12, 1861. To this union was born nine children, six of whom are deceased. The three that survive her are Mrs. Hays Wooster, El Paso; Will Sutherland, Wichita Falls, and John Sutherland, Houston. Her husband died in 1891 and for 35 years she was a widow and God alone knows her trials and troubles during those many years, as she was not a woman who burdened her friends by complaining but was patient and kind and often said that her Savior helped her bear her burdens and I'm sure He did, for we are told that more than 64 years ago she was born from above. She realized what Christ was trying to teach Nicodemus in the third chapter of the Gospel by John, that the most important thing for anyone to know is how to be saved and although that great Jewish ruler marveled, Jesus said "You must be born again." After our friend had given herself to Jesus she served her Lord and Master by living an upright Christian life; she was not only a Texas pioneer, but a pioneer of the Christian faith and we loved her for her works' sake. She was a gleaner in the earthly garden of her Lord, and He will reward her in Heaven above for her many kind deeds for she was a friend and neighbor to all, and as I stood by and watched her Bible tenderly placed in her casket (as requested) I lifted my heart to God and prayed that we who are left behind would love and study God's word more. Truly a faithful mother in Israel has passed away.

Sister Sutherland was a member of the Missionary Baptist church at Post Oak, Texas, at the time of her death, but for a number of years she was a member of Petty's Chapel church: was a charter member of that church when it was first organizzed years ago. Her pastor, Rev. J. L. More of Kaufman, conducted her funeral, paying a sweet tribute to Christian mother. Several beautiful songs were sung by Mrs. Dora Rutherford and Messrs. Harold Blankenship, T. H. Bowden and L. M. Williams. Her body was laid to rest in the cemetery at Petty's Chapel to await the final resurrection. A large crowd of relatives and friends were present and placed many beautiful flowers on her grave as a token of their love for her. As a church we feel we have lost a worthy member and to her children and other relatives we extend our tenderest sympathy.

Dear children, will you not trust and serve God, for she can never come back to you, but thanks be to God, you can meet her in Heaven if you will only trust your mather's God. Remember that the wayse of the world may tempt you with their glitter and glint of gold and its promises may allure you as you watch its mirage unfold false prophets, the thieves of Satan like vampires entice their prey, but stick to your mothers' God. Her way is the safest way.

The palace of sin and pleasure
May appeal to your heart's desire,
For its music is strangely thrilling
Like the strains of a golden lyre.
But stop! ere you cross the threshold
Look back to your childhood days,
And stick to your Mother's God,
Her way is the rafest way.

Her breast was your first warm pillow,
When she taught you to lisp His name.
Dont' dishonor that blessed memory,
With the teachings of modern shame.
Keep on in the dear old pathway,
Let others do as they may,
But stick to your Mother's God.
Her way is the safest way.

MAY DAY HEALTH PLAN FOR THE CHILDREN

Proper Living, Playing and School Conditions Should Be Assured to Every American Child, for the Good of the Nation.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DR. COPELAND.

LAST year I told you about the plan of the American Child Health Association to make May Day the National Child Health Day.

Why not?

May Day has always been a day for the children. It has been a health day too, because all the activities associated with May Day are open-air affairs. The May pole, the parades of queens and kings, the dances and all the games are on the lawns and in the parks.

Out-of-door life—sports and games, no matter what—make for good health. May Day then, is Health Day.

Secretary Herbert Hoover is President of the American Child Health Association. Last year he drew up a bill of right for children.

Men have fought and died to establish for mankind a bill of rights. The most precious of all human beings are the little children. If anybody in the world is entitled to the protection of his natural rights, it is the child.

Mr. Hoover says:

"There should be no child in America who:—

"Is not born under proper conditions.

"Does not live in hygienic surroundings.

"Ever suffers from malnutrition.

"Does not have an opportunity for outdoor play.

"Does not have prompt and efficient medical inspection and attention.

"Does not receive primary instruction in the elements of hygiene and health."

It should be the aim of every citizen of every civic organization of every church, of the Government itself, to see that this program is carried into effect. Housing, fresh air and sunlight, facilities for bathing, pure milk at a decent price, playgrounds and parks, medical and dental care, and adequate teaching in the things making for good health—these are things which should be given every child in all America.

When we supply these fundamentals to the children of this generation, it means that the children of the next generation will be better born. With each succeeding generation the boys and girls will be bigger and stronger. They will be brighter and happier.

Within reasonable limits we can determine what kind of an American we shall have in the year 2000. What it is to be depends largely on what we do for children from now forward for three-quarters of a century. You and I have a part to play. If we do our duty we help to make possible all the ambitious plans of the American Child Health Association. Let's do it.

From earliest times the admonition has been to aid the weakest and frailest of God's children. The child-life of America is in the care of all the rest of us. Our duty lies in leading the little ones to the fullest enjoyment of all that is best and brightest in this world of ours.

COURSE IN SCIENTIFIC COOKERY TO BE OFFERED HOUSEWIVES NAVARRO CO.

Home making is more than a mere name. It is very much of a reality to Mrs. Ida Chitwood, domestic science expert and an authority on household arts in general. She has devoted all of her time for a number of years to the subject of home making and thousands of housewives over the country bear witness to her talent for imparting valuable knowledge and assisting them in their domestic problems. She is equipped in every department of home making and knows what constitutes proper foods, how to prepare them, how to serve them as well as what to buy and when. These things she will explain to Corsicana housewives every of the week, beginning May 10, in lectures and demonstrations at the Corsicana high school.

Foods to be selected for different occasions and for use in unusual combinations, the planning, the marketing, and all the way through to the actual serving, make up the text of the lectures on domestic science which Mrs. Chitwood gives for the benefit of the women in her audience. Add to this the demonstration of the preparation of the various dishes, step by step, each fully explained and there is supplied an afternoon of incalcuable value to the home-maker.

The opportunity to give close inspection to the finished product is provided, as the various dishes are passed through the audience. Each woman may see the garnish, which is appealing to the eye. And, by the way, Mrs. Chitwood demonstrates how to use the things to garnish with and how to accomplish this in a few seconds so easily, that one feels that the day of ungarnished foods is almost passed.

There is no admission charge of any kind to these lectures. Everything is free to the women of Corsicana and surrounding territory. Come and be the guest of the Daily Sun and Semi-Weekly Morning Light. Bring your notebooks and pencils so you can jot down recipes for future use.

Every woman who can possibly attend this school will want to do so. It is designed to be for all women the greatest treat of the year and will bare many new methods of making home attractive and the kitchen the greatest place on earth.

There may be some who will say, "The old ways are good enough for me," but those who have thought the same in times past have changed their minds, being willing and, in fact, anxious to try the newer methods. There are many new ideas in kitchen and dining room management that have never been thought of before.

Home making and home keeping have become glorified by the many modern tools and equipment and the new ways of preparing food which has eliminated much of the hard work and drudgery of olden times. Every home is a budget in itself. Where expenses should be governed in accordance with the income. Lack of system in this matter as well as lack of knowledge on the part of the housewife has disrupted many homes.

Ways and means of overcoming many of these obstacles will be explained by Mrs. Chitwood, who has had wide experience in matters of this kind.

Ways of decorating simple dishes and of preparing the table for formal affairs will be given by Mrs. Chitwood, who knows and understands how all women like to entertain and how many of them have to manage carefully in order to do so. This and many other special ways of making the home attractive will be demonstrated and thoroughly discussed by Mrs. Chitwood.

The entire week's course will be given free of any cost to the women of Corsicana and surrounding territory.

White's Cream Vermifuge has a record of fifty years successful use. Price 35c. Sold by Inabnit Drug Co.

Clyde Cole, banker of Streetman, brother of John Cole, pitcher with the Oilers, was a business visitor in Corsicana Friday.

J. C. Guyton was here today from Fort Worth.

DEEP TEST NORTH CORSICANA WILL BE STARTED EARLY DAY

Navarro county will get a 3,500 foot oil test, if present plans now being made by local parties develop as expected. P. M. Lea, well known in Corsicana oil circles for a number of years, is getting up acreage for a deep test to be drilled between the Country Club and Briar Creek, just north of Corsicana. This hole, exact location of which has not been made, will be drilled to 3,500 feet in a test of the lower sands. Acreage is being blocked covering parts of the Worthington, Kerr, Woodrow and other tracts in that locality. For some time local people have endeavored to see a real deep hole drilled in this section, and this opration will prove of considerable interest generally.

Garland Kent is drilling on the K. Wolens tract test south of town at 2,730 feet. A smal fishing job recently caused a short delay in the work. Other local parties are negotiating for the drilling of a test northeast of Corsicana adjacent to the old gas field of Chatfield.

Washington Oil Corporation of Seattle is drilling a shallow well on the Walton tract, north of town and Kerr & Gillette are coring in the test on the Slaughter tract near Roane.

The Fred Haynes test in Henderson county continues drilling with the bit nearing the sand level. The chalk depths were said to be very favorable for oil in that section.

No doubt a number of new tests will be drilled in Navarro county during the present summer and fall.

BROTHER MISTAKEN FOR BURGLAR SHOT DEATH HONEY GROVE

By Associated Press.

Honey Grove, Texas, May 1.—Mistaken by his brother for a burglar, Al Scott was shot to death late last night as he passed through a bed room in the Scott home, three miles from here.

Al, who lived with his brother, Ed, and Mrs. Scott, made a slight noise as he passed through their room. Mrs. Scott awakened suddenly, screamed. Ed Scott grasped a shot gun at the bedside and fired both barrels. The charges entered Scott's face and he died en route to a sanitarium at Paris.

THIRD in the World

-and Sales still mounting

During the first three month of 1926 Dodge Brothers, Inc., built and sold more motor vehicles than any other manufacturer in the world, except Ford and Chevrolet.

71,189 retail deliveries were made by Dodge Brothers Dealers in the United States and Canada between January second and April third. This represents a gain of 37 per cent over the same period last year and 69 per cent over the first quarter of 1924!

Third largest in the world! And sales CONTINUING to mount week after week to new record breaking levels.

In fact, during the week ending April 24th retail sales reached the remarkable total of 9,566—the greatest single week in Dodge Brothers history!

These figures are all the more significant when you realize that the gain of the industry as a whole over last year is only 12 per cent.

There could be no more convincing evidence that today's product is regarded as better than ever before and that the present prices make it the most impressive value Dodge Brothers have ever offered.

LYNCH DAVIDSON SPOKE ON ISSUES CAMPAIGN BARRY

STANDARD OIL ACT AND FARMING SITUATION DISCUSSED TODAY

Repeating his determination to lay before the people of Texas the facts about the "Standard Oil Act" of the last legislature, Lynch Davidson, candidate for governor, in speaking at Barry today before a Trade's Day gathering of Navarro county farmers, sharply criticized the editorial policy of the Dallas News in "consoling the Ferguson administration, and condoning the enactment of Senate Bill No. 180."

There was a large gathering of both farmers and business men to hear Mr. Davidson despite the fact that rain had been falling throughout the day. The speaker was introduced by A. A. Allison of this city, and W. T. Woodruff of Barry presided at the meeting.

The speaker referred to the leading editorial in Wednesday's issue of the Dallas News, under the caption of "Mr. Davidson's Billion Dollar Issue," and declared that "the conclusions of the editorial writer are not sustained either in principle or by law."

"It is indeed a billion dollar issue," Mr. Davidson said. "A hundred million dollars taken out of Texas by four oil companies in a single year and at least a like amount taken by the other six big companies means two billion dollars within the last ten years. Many more billions will be taken out of Texas oil reservoirs in the next decade. This issue vitally concerns our heritage to posterity and every person of today or tomorrow who buys a gallon of gasoline or oil.

"While I am no constitutional lawyer, I have consulted able attorneys, and I am not afraid to go to the people of Texas on the proposition that this sovereign State can and should prevent the Standard Oil Company from owning and controlling Texas oil companies, regardless of what the Dallas News says.

"A corporation has no natural rights. It is solely a creature of the law. It is absurd and ridiculous to say that the great State of Texas is impotent and powerless to prevent the Standard Oil Company, or any other foreign corporation from gobbling up our oil resources.

"Then they say Senate Bill No. 180 is 'superflous.' If it doesn't amount to anything I would like for someone to explain why it was enacted, and why it was approved by the governor. If the Standard Oil Company has the right, all these years, while outlawed from Texas, to own stock in and dictate the policy of Texas corporations, then let the Ferguson administration, or those defending it, explain why the Standard Oil Company, immediately after Senate Bill No. 180 became a law, absorbed and took over the Humble, the Magnolia and other Texas companies."

Mr. Davidson read Article 7797 of the Revised Statutes of Texas, which defines a monopoly, and which was enacted in 1903, and asserted that "It was under this wise anti-trust law that the Standard Oil Company was banished from Texas."

He then read Senate Bill No. 180, enacted by the last legislature and approved by the Governor, which provides that "When any foreign corporation without a permit to do business in this State lawfully owns or may lawfully own or acquire stock in a Texas corporation, it shall not be unlawful for such foreign corporations to vote said stock and participate in the management and control of the business and affairs of such Texas corporations, etc.

"It was under Senate Bill No. 180," Mr. Davidson said, "that the Standard Oil Company came sneaking back into Texas. That is why it is and should be known as 'Standard Oil' Act."

Declaring that "if Hogg was right in putting the Standard out of Texas through his anti-trust laws, then Ferguson is wrong in bringing it back through Senate Bill No. 180," Mr. Davidron said he was ready to stand "with Hogg and the people against Ferguson and the Standard Oil Company."

"Let us not dodge the issue," he declared. "The real question is for or against monopolistic control of our oil resources. I am against it. Let the other candidates and the press of this State tell the people where they stand."

Mr. Davidson spoke on the economic situation of the farmer, and declared that efficient production must be coupled with a competent method of distribution, properly financed to, insure economic independence.

Mr. Davidson arrived in Corsicana shortly after noon Saturday and went immediately to the Navarro hotel where he was the guest of A. A. Allison for lunch. Immediately after lunch Mr. Davidson accompanied by a party of friends left for Barry in automobiles. Those present for the lunch included the honor guest, A. A. Allison, Joe B. Fortson, Representative Ernest C. Cox, Rev. Paul J. Merrill, John C. Calhoun, Sydney Marks, Lowry Martin and Sam J. Little.

LYNCH DAVIDSON INJECTS LIQUOR ISSUE IN RACE

By Associated Press.

Lancaster, Texas, April 30.—The liquor issue was definitely brought into the Texas gubernatorial fight here today by Lynch Davidson of Houston, candidate for governor.

Speaking before an audience of Ellis county residents, Davidson announced himself as opposed to the repeal of the Volstead Act or any weakening of liquor law enforcement. He denounced systems to revive the liquor traffic in state or nation and said the great need of the hour in Texas is law enforcement in every department.

The so-called straw votes on liquor modification, he charged, are "hand picked" and conducted by the liquor influenced press.

LEGIONNAIRES IN SOCIAL SESSION AT CLUB HOUSE THURS.

About sixty Legionnaires attended the social meeting held by the local Legion post at the Lake Halbert club houes Thursday night. A buffet supper was served to all guests. The menu consisted of a variety of cold meats, pickles, olives, tomatoes, onions, white and rye bread and cold kegweiser. There was no business taken up. The eats were served informally on a large improvised table simulating to some extent the old mess hall.

A general good social time was enjoyed, though the attendance was probably cut down on account of the threatening weather. A light shower fell just about the time the party was started. Several were deterred from attending on this account. The Post is gradually gaining in membership. This year there is a larger number of paid up members than has ever been in the local post in its entire history. Several reaffiliated with the Legion Thursday night.

BIG CATTLE DEAL SHOWS TREND NEW CONDITIONS THAT FACE INDUSTRY IN AMERICA

By Associated Press.

Kansas City, April 30.—A cattle deal here today involving 63 carloads of 3-year-old steers approximating about $125,000 was one of the events that showed a marked change in policy in marketing here, from one of the largest ranches in Texas.

The steers were bought by Hudleston Brothers, Pomona, Kans., from the Matador Land and Cattle Company of Denver, which has ranches in Brazil and near Channing, Texas.

Heretomore the Matador Company has been shipping its cattle to grassing lands in the northern part of the country and even into Canada, where they were finished and marketed as four, five or six year olds. The increasing demand for younger beef, however, it was explained, has caused the company to abandon that policy and the company will relinquish its South Dakota and Canada grassing lands held under lease. The concern's cattle will be marketed hereafter as yearlings or two-year-olds, representatives of the company said at the stock yards here today.

The Hudleston Brothers will pasture the cattle this summer in the grassing districts of Butler ond Wabaunze counties, in Kansas, and next fall the stock will be brought back to the Kansas City market as fat cattle, representatives of the company said.

William Herbert Nicol.

An Appreciation.

The vestry of St. John's church wish to put on record their gratitude to God for the good example of His servant, William Herbert Nicol, a sometime warden and vestryman of this church, who, having served faithfully and well in his generation, at last, sustained by the sacraments of the church he loved, has entered into his eternal rest, in the confidence of a certain faith, in the comfort of a reasonable, religious and holy hope.

We further wish to record our grief at his departure, and our appreciation of the loyal and unselfish devotion with which he served this parish for so many years. A devout churchman and a good citizen, Mr. Nicol commanded the respect and esteem of all who knew him.

May he rest in peace and may light perpetual shine upon him.

REVIVAL SERVICES CHURCH OF CHRIST NOW IN PROGRESS

REV. E. W. M'MILLAN OF CLEBURNE IS DOING THE PREACHING

Rev. E. W. McMillan, evangelst if Cleburne, is conducting a revival meeting at the Church of Christ which will continue two weeks. Services are held twice daily, each morning from 10 to 11 and the evening services start at 8 o'clock.

Extensive preparations have been made for the meeting by members of the Church of Christ and they confidently expect a great revival.

Rev. Mr. McMillan is not what is called a sensational preacher, but he delivers an appealing as well as highly instructive sermon.

The revival started with the morning service Sunday and the evangelist is being assisted by Rev. J. P. Sewell, pastor of the church.

Both services Sunday were largely attended. At the morning hour the main auditorium was filled to a capacity and many occuied seats in the balcony. The same was true of the evening service.

Roy Layton had charge of the song service Sunday and congregational singing of old familiar hymns was featured.

Rev. Mr. Sewell, pastor of the church, announced that there was a nursery for children in the basement of the church and that mothers could leave their children there each service.

James 3:4, "Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts," was the basis of tthe subject. "Answered and Unanswered Prayer" was selected by the evangelist for his discussion Sunday morning.

An appeal was made to the members of the church to pray earnestly and sincerely for the meeting by the Rev. Mr. McMillan, who discussed various kinds of prayer. In his discussions he gave many reasons why prayer was not answered and also told of the kind of prayer that would be answered.

In opening his discussion Rev. Mr. McMillan declared tthat there should be a purpose in everything and he apepaled to the members of the church to have something definite in view during the meeting. He also said that the meeting was for the purpose of getting closer to God and urged the members of the church to start the meeting right and keep it right until the end by praying earnestly for its success. He urged the members not to go into the revival with only half-hearted interest and attend only because they thought it right to do so, but to settle on something they wanted to accomplish and ask God to help them accomplish it.

PUBLIC LANDING FIELD FOR PLANES WANTED CORSICANA

The increasing need of a public landing field at Corsicana has been brought to the atttention of the Chamber of Commerce by local aviation enthusiasts.

Inauguration of the National Air Transport service from Dallas and Fort Worth on May 12 to Chicago, connecting with the New York aerial line, is one factor which makes the subject timely. Another more pressing item is the limited facilities for the three local planes now making headquarters in Corsicana.

During the past several days an air caravan has been flying over Texas as a means of attracting attention to the new epoch which will be started in Texas with the beginning of the air mail line.

Pilot Pedley, dean of the local air enthusiasts, thinks that a public landing field would result in a considerable number of planes stopping in Corsicana. He offered the further thought that several additional planes would be purchased by local men if there were hangar and landing facilities.

Students of aviation feel that the inauguration of the North Texas mail and express line is the beginning of a strong interest in mail and commercal air lines which will rapidly spread to other parts of the State. Those cities which lend encouragement to aviation through public fields and facilities will hasten the extension of service and their own chances for recogniton, it is asserted.

Dr. T. H. Smart, representative of the National Air Transport, Inc. carried the plane caravan to Waco last week and paid tribute to the enterprise which Waco has shown in the facilities offered there.

"You have a good landing field in Waco—it is creditable, and shows that the people are awake to the possbilities of all kinds of flying which is something worth while, as navigation of the air is a revolution which will become increasingly important," Dr. Smart told representatives of tthe Waco Chamber.

RAIN INTERFERES WITH BARRY TRADES DAY CELEBRATION

LARGE [illegible] HEARD ADDRESS BY LYNCH DAVIDSON

Rain Saturday interfered with the Trades Day at Barry. Though a large number of people were in town during the morning and many remained throughout the afternoon to hear Lynch Davidson, the exercises in connection with the Trades Day were canceled.

It had been planned to have a large number of merchants and farmers from the surrounding country in town for many wanted to hear Mr. Davidson, who spoke in the interest of his candidacy for governor.

Another Trades Day will be held the first Saturday in June and will be simultaneous with the closing of school. School exercises will be held. There is a literary contest on between the school children, essays are to be written, "Why I should Have a College Education," and winners will be decided at the closing day of school.

Mr. Davidson arrived in Barry in the early afternoon from Corsicana, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Allison. He spoke in a downtown hall. The rain fell almost in torrents during the entire speech, which lasted almost two hours.

More than 100 merchants and farmers, and a goodly representation of women were in attendance. The roads were practically impassable to automobile traffic.

L. W. Varnell had charge of the preliminary program of the speaking, and announced concerning the holding of the next Trades' Day. Miss Alma Jackson gave a couple of readings. W. T. Woodruff presided, and A. A. Allison introduced Mr. Davidson.

Mr. Davidson stressed honesty and integrity in office, and economy with efficiency in the administration of public officials. He reiterated his stand for prohibition and for longer terms of rural schools. He compared Ferguson Moody to two prize fighters getting ready to get into the ring, and that he will be the referee. While, he said, the people watched the bout between his opponents, he wanted them to vote for the referee.

Mr. Davidson returned to Corsicana and visited the State Orphans' Home and proceeded to Dallas and remained over Sunday.

BISHOP H. M. DUBOSE ON ARCHEAOLOGY IN RELATION TO BIBLE

INTERESTING DISCOURSE ON THE BIBLE AND ITS HISTORY HERE SUNDAY

Bishop H. M. DuBose of the Mehodist Episcopal Church South, whose home is in Winston-Salem N. C., delivered a most profound and learned discourse on the Bible it's history and it's meaning to Christianity, as well as telling of the assaults that had been made upon the authenticity of the Bible as an inspired work, and also the part archaeology has played and was playing in the refutation of the claims of some of these destructive criticisms, at the morning hour in the First Methodist church to an audience that overflowed the large auditorium of the church and which was held in rapt attention throughout his discourse of about an hour and a half.

Bishop DuBose is no doubt one of the greatest authorities in the United States today on this subject and that he is deeply interested in the value of archaeology in proving the authenticity of many of the disputed points in the Bible can be easily seen when sitting within the sound of his earnest and magnetic voice. He has been selected by Dr. Selling of the University of Berlin, and himself one of the greatest living authorities on archaeology, to head a commission to the Holy Land and will sail in a short time to take up his work.

After being given an introduction to the congregation by the pastor, the Rev. Eugene W. Potter, in which he paid a high tribute to the Bible and its place in the world and also gave Bishop DuBose due recognition for his work in placing the Bible properly before the peoples of the world, stating that the distinguished visitor had come all the way from his North Carolina home to talk to the people of Corsicana and that he would be heard by all the churches of Methodism in Dallas Sunday night, saying that all the Methodist pastors had called in their evening services and that Bishop DuBose would deliver his sermon in the McFarlin auditorium.

Reading parts of Hebrews and Kings upon which to found his remarks the speaker started out by saying that the Bible was the only world book ever written, that other books had been written with the idea in view that they would become world books and would be the foundation upon which the peoples and nations of the world base their actions and beliefs, but that they had all failed of their purpose and that the Bible had no competitor along this line and that it today stands alone as a world book; that it alone reveals the true ideals and contains the perfect law of God—the will and the wish of God for His peoples.

Bishop DuBose gave a short history of a number of books that had been written with the idea in view that they would supercede the Bible and usurp its place in the teachings of mankind, and stated that they had all failed to make good and that they would continue to do so. The Bible is a complete story of the history and the sad fall of man, and gives the only true and complete remedy and cure for sin and the way to a deliverannce from the curse of sin. Stating that the Bible cannot be hurt by the destructive criticisms that have been heaped upon it in recent years, the speaker said that it was man's faith that had been distressed. Continuing, the speaker said in part:

Modern Critics Bring Distress

"The Bible, especially the Old Testament , as to its historical truth and integrity, has been brought into sad distress through the onsets of modern criticism.

"This fact is known to Christians and to Jews alike, who are mutually interested in the vindication and preservation of the Holy Scriptures. This distress has grown acute during the last century and has culminated with the breaking out of the World War.

"In order to perfectly understand the nature and the extent of the distress which has thus come upon faith in the truth of the history and claims of the Scripture, it will be well to consider what was the letter and spirit of this faith in the Bible before the advent of destructive criticism.

" It was briefly this: A hundred years ago the Bible was accepted for the value and integrity of its own claims. It was thus held to be a book inspired by Jehovah and written by holy men at the times and under the conditions which the books of the Bible themselves specifically claim.

The first five books of the Old Testament, known at Pentateuch, were believed to have been written by Moses in the fourteenth century B. C., or just before and during the wilderness period of Israelitish history.

"The other historical books were also held to be inspired and to have been written by holy men in the times which they describe or which are claimed by them by the faith of the traditions.

"The prophesies, those passionate messages and 'burdens' which mark the age of the great ethical awakening in Hebrew history, were held to be products of the 500 years which fell between the ninth and fifth centuries, B. C. The other writings, included in the Psalms, but not included in these citations, were also held to be inspired and to belong to an equal antiquity.

"But about a century ago criticism entered the arena of Bible thought.

Said Moses No Writer

"By the end of the last century criticism had made specific denial of practically all of these claims of traditional Bible faith.

"This criticism originated with the conjectures of Jeaen Astrue in the eighteenth century, who used the fact of the presence in the Pentateuch of two names of Diety, Elohim and Jehovah, as the basis for a theory of the origin of Mosaic books from older sources, many of these mythical anl unreliable Valtke, Wellhausen and Delitsch worked this theory to the peak of its destructive statement in what has long been known unde rthe title of 'higher criticism,' though the term does not entirely describe the fact. But higher criticism, thus defined, distinctly denies the Mosaic authority of the books of the Pentateuch; indeed that these books were written from 600 to 1,000 years later.

"This hypothesis, which is known as Wellhausenism, denied that Moses was able to write, or that the art of writing was even known at his age. According to this school, the age of Moses was one of ignorance and of the absence of literature. Moreover, the historicity of Moses was doubted, and the historicity of Abraham was all but denied.

Was Falsely Credited

"Their names were considered to be eponims; not the names of men as described in the alleged histories of the Bible. The Israelitish tribes of the time of the exodus were, according to this theory, described as Bedouins, wandering Arabs who worshiped, not Jehavah, as described in the Bible, but the gods and spirits of nature.

"Not only did Moses not give the law in the wilderness, but the story of the ark of the covenant, the gold service of the sanctuary and the tabernacle, as described in Exodus and Leviticus, were things of the later Jewish fancy. The tabernacle and its service represented $10,000,00 in gold; and there then was not so much gold available; certainly not at the hands of Moses.

"The claim is also specifically made that the book of Deuteronomy was not written until about 100 years before the Jewish exile, and that it was a rank fabrication, perpetrated by Hilkiah and Ezakial to concentrate worship at Jerusalem, and for selfish ends. This fabrication, with its false history, was unblushingly credited to Moses.

"Also the law which Ezra brought back from Babylon to Jerusalem at the end of the exile was equally a fabrication, a pious fraud, written by the priests in Babylon; also falsely credited to Moses.

War Brought Changes

"This criticism also held that most of the prophesies were written before there was even a law in Israel; but it held that several of the prophesies, as Jonah, Joel, Daniel and the book of Job, make a false and indefennsible claim in stating that they were ancienlty written in Israel. The history of Daniel is fradulent and the books of Jonah and Job are late romances which have no historical foundations. This is criticism.

"But the close of the World War brought a great change in the thought and faith of Bible scholars and leaders. The destructive criticism of the Wellhauser school is in a state of wreck. In Germany and Great Britain there today is hardly a representative Bible scholar who retains faith in the Wellhauser hypothesis.

"Scholars life Prof. Max Sohn of Koenigsberg, Ernest Sellin of Berlin, and Wilhelm Moller of Rockhith, who formerly supported the Wellhausen theory, have utterly deserted it and are moving back toward the old traditional Bible faith. This also is largely true of Bible thought in England.

"Only in this country, America, the news has not yet effectively spread.

Archaeological Solution

"The would-be higher critics infesting our pulpits and schools are belated and are relying on the out-worn speculations of thirty years ago.

"What has brought this great change to Bible science and Old Testament faith? The answer is found in one word: 'Archaeology.'

"Since the World War the results of the archaeological investigations and excavations of the last thirty of more years have been summed up and the verdict is fatal to higher criticism.

"The discovery of the Tel-El Amarua tablets in Egypt in 1888 shows that writing and literature were existent in that land and throughout Western Asia two centuries before Moses' birth.

"Professor Sellin, a few years before the World War, discovered at Talanach written tablets which go back to the fourteenth century B. C. The stole of Hammurabi, a stone monolith, inscribed with 8,000 words goes back to a period near the year 2,200 B. C. and makes direct contact with the history of Abraham.

"This disposes of the claim that Moses could not have written the Pentateuch.

Tomb Revealed Wealth

"'The opening in Egypt of the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen, less than two years ago, revealed a wealth of beaten gold, precious stones and carven wood representing fifteen millions of dollars. Tut-Ankh-Amen was buried 100 years before the birth of Moses. The men who built the tomb of Tut were Jews; the men who built the tabernacle in the wilderness were Jews. Thus it is that one of the contentions of the critics was swept away and the Bible, the word of God, remains forever. Archaeology is thus like a second revelation; a second law given from Sinai; a second sermon on the Mount.

"My present message to my fellow Bible students and fellow Bible lovers in America concerns the coming excavations, to be made at the sight of Sechem in the Bible.

"Sechem is the most important city in Bible history. There Abraham and Jacob lived; there Joshua had a foregathering of the people of Israel after the conquest, and there he set up an inscribed memorial stone. There Jacob buried valuable images and records; there Jereboam I had his capital and there built a palace; but above all, it was there that the bones of Joseph was translaid by the victorious tribe.

Sechem Historic Sight

"The ruins of Sechem contain records and witnesses of metal bronze, pottery and tablets which it is believed will establish beyond doubt the historicity of Abraham and Jacob, the history of the conquest and the truth of the stories of the days of the Judges; and thus forever put an end to the last defense of the higher critics.

At the close of his discourse Bishop DuBose stated that he had promised to raise a certain sum for the prosecution of this work of bringing to light the writings of the ancients and that while he was near his goal that he would deeply appreciate any assistance that might be given, and pledge cards were passed among those present upon which the interested ones in the proposed work might make pledges of assistance for the work.

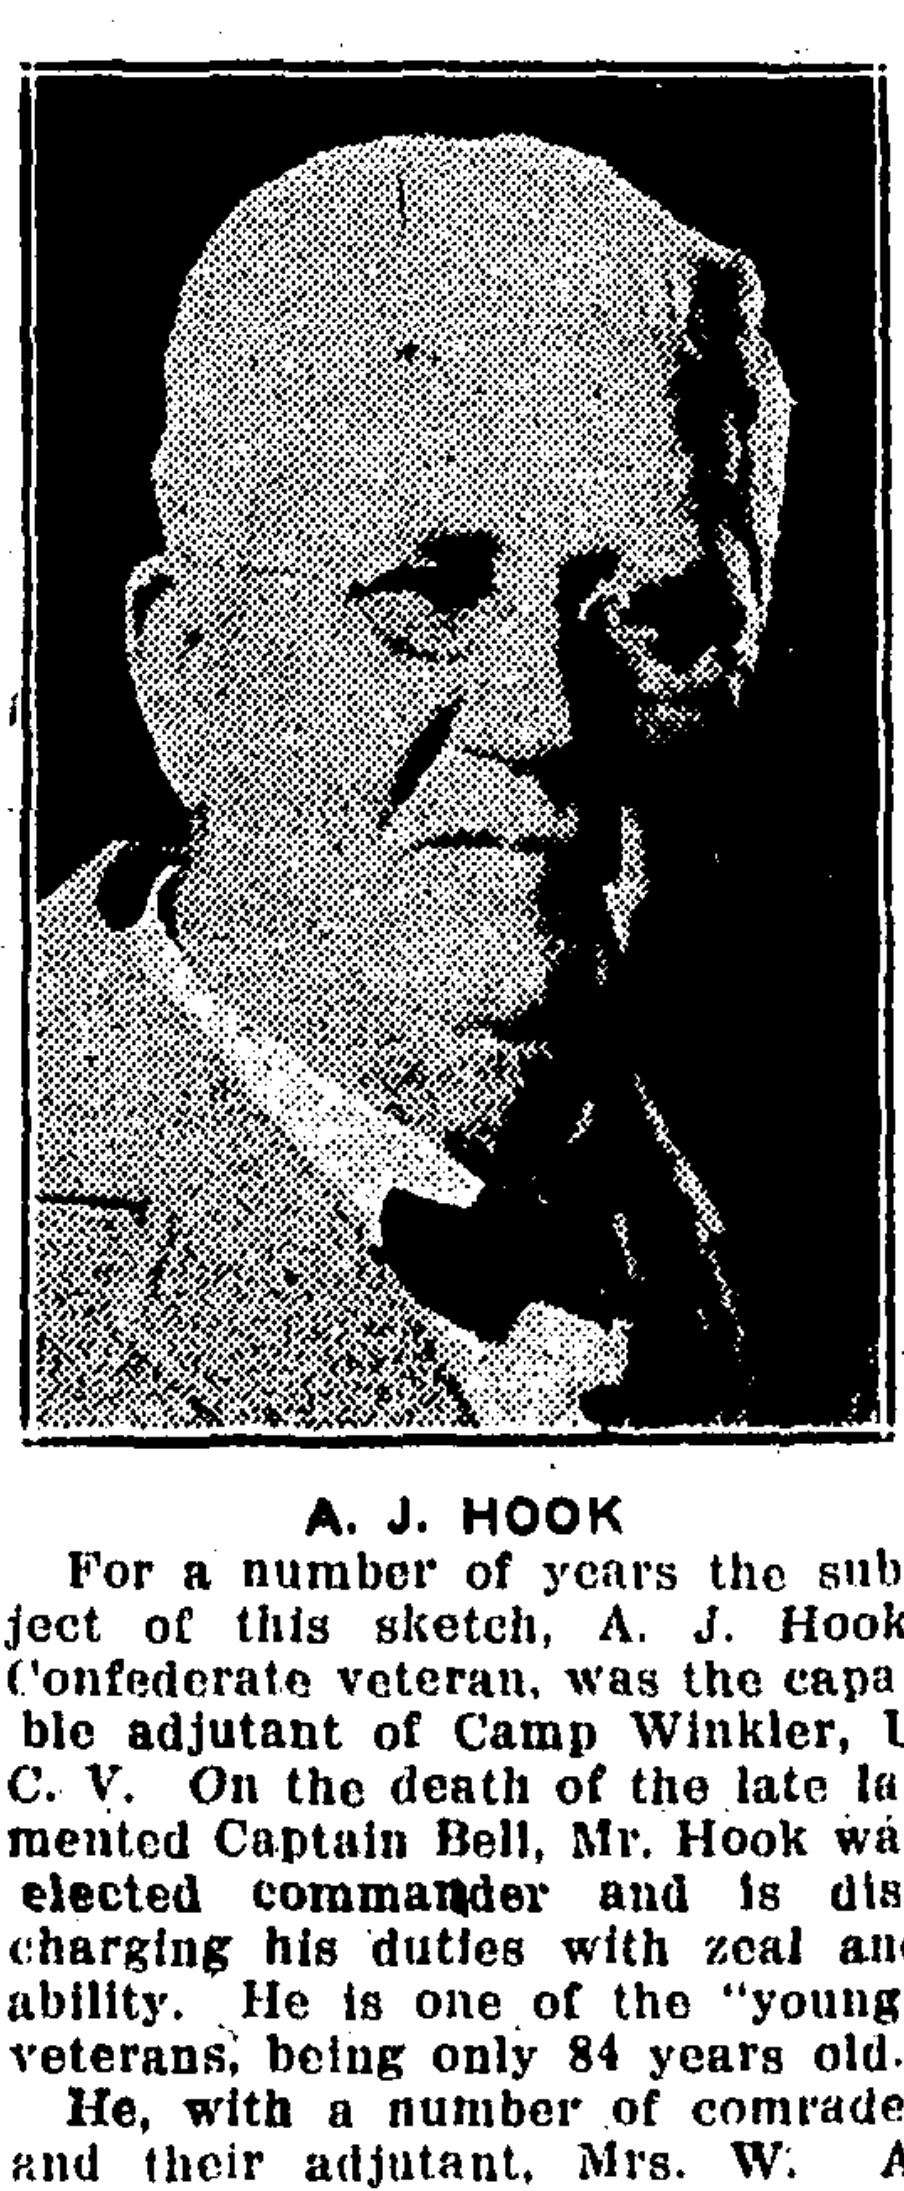
LOCAL COMMANDER CONFEDERATES TO HEAD REUNIONISTS



A. J. HOOK

For a number of years the subject of this sketch, A. J. Hook, Confederate veteran, was the capable adjutant of Camp Winkler, U. C. V. On the death of the late lamented Captain Bell, Mr. Hook was elected commander and is discharging his duties with zeal and ability. He is one of the "young" veterans, being only 84 years old.

He, with a number of comrades and their adjutant, Mrs. W. A. Hammett, will attend the reunion at Birmingham, May 18-21.

The Navarro County Veterans will also visit Stone Mountain at Atlanta, Ga., where, under auspices of the Daughters of the Confederacy, the most stupendous piece of sculpture the world records is being carved on a solid granite mountain seven miles long, the Confederate army and leaders carved in bas-relief and enormous figures, by Lukeman, America's leading sculptor, succeeding Borglam.

The generosity of our Corsicana citizens who are making possible this yearly longed for trip, are sincerely thanked by both Daughters and Veterans, a list of their names will later appear.

Some interesting details of Commander Hook's Confederate career, written by Mrs. Mamie Downard Peck, President Navarro Chapter, U. D. C., and published in the Daily Sun, will, with some changes and additions, be published in the Confederate Veteran.

SHAMROCK WOMAN BURNED DEATH AS SMOKEHOUSE RAZED

By Associated Press.

Shamrock, Texas, May 1.—While her husband worked in a field, ignorant of the fire, Mrs. Barney Howe, aged 42, was burned to death as their smokehouse was razed, presumably from a kerosene explosion near here today.

Howe, a farmer, in the field with his son, Melvin, 17, did not know of the fire until the smoke house was nearly destroyed. The Shamrock fire department extinguished the blaze and recovered the body. Howe said he had left his wife cleaning house this morning, and that her work probably led to the smokehouse, where a can of kerosene was kept.

JUGO-SLAVIA HAS AGREED FUND WAR DEBT TO AMERICA

By Associated Press.

Washington, May 1.—An agreement was reached today for the funding of $51,000,000 war debt of Jugo-Slavia to this country.

The settlement apparently completed the administration's war debt funding program, so far as it will be possible to do so for the present.

The Jugo-Slavian terms, providing, like the others, for payment over a long period of years, is expected to go to the capitol with a request for ratification at this session of Congress, and to take its place there immediately behind the newly negotiated agreement with France.

Under the settlement reached today with Jugo-Slavia, that country will pay a total of $95,177,635, principal and interest, over a period of 62 years.

Payments will start at $200,000 a year for the first five years, increasing to $375,000 which will be paid annually for the last 50 years.

Interest charges will be dropped for the first 12 years. Thereafter they will begin at one-eighth of one percent for three years, and then increase gradually to 3 1-2 percent, which will be the rate during the last 27 years.

The American negotiators, it was said at the treasury, took into account that Jugo-Slavia is one of the poorest countries of Europe, and was overrun three times during the war.

JACK M'CARVER TO PARTICIPATE RACES INDIANAPOLIS SOON

Jack McCarver, Corsicana boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. McCarver, will be one of the participants in the annual 500-mile Indianapolis automobile sweepstakes race May 31, according to nformation received here.

He was a mechanic for several years and is well known here. He has been racing for several months but this is the first time that he has been in this greatest of racing events and it is a distinct honor for him as the sweepstakes is recognized as one of the premier events in automobile racing.

WESTERN UNION SAFE IS ROBBED OF NEARLY $500

The local Western Union office was the victim of burglars Tuesday night.

The funds received by the office were placed in the safe Tuesday evening and when the safe was opened Wednesday morning a shortage of $437.38 in cash was found.

The safe was not damaged in any way, and from appearances the combination had been worked and relocked after the money was taken.

An investigation is now under way.

SETTLEMENT FINALLY AGREED UPON FRENCH AMERICAN PARTIES

By Associated Press.

Washington, April 30.—Certain to face bitter opposition in Congress and the French paliament, the last of the major war debt funding agreements has been signed, with President Coolidge's approval, by Secretary Mellon and Ambassador Berenger.

It provides for payment by France of $6,847,674,000, including interest, in 62 annual installments graduating from $30,000,000 to $125,000,000. The principal was fixed at $4,025,000,000 and interest was waiver for the first five years, rising gradually thereafter from 1 to 3 1-2 per cent, the latter rate applying for the last 22 years and making the average a little more than 1 5-8 per cent.

Worked out after eight months of negotiations, the agreement will be submitted to Congress without delay, and Senator Smoot, Republican, of Utah, a member of the American Debt Commission, plans to seek its ratification before adjournment.

The largest remaining unfunded debt, except the $193,000,000 Russian obligation is that of Jugo-Slavia amounting to $51,000,000, and an early funding settlement of this is expected to result from negotiations now in progress.

Opposition in Congress to the French agreement, which Secretary Mellon described as representing "substantially France's capacity to pay," probably will center on the fact that, if the interest had been fixed on the same basis as that of the American loans from which the money turned over to France was derived, the total payment called for would be much greater. Computed on a 4 1-2 percent interest basis, the present value of the $6,847,674,000 compact is $2,008,122,624, slightly less than half the principal. On the same basis, however, the Italian agreement which the Senate recently ratified represents a current value of only 25 per cent of the debt.

Members of the French parliament are expected to take exception to the absence of a "safeguard clause." This has been one of the points on which previous negotiations have broken, the French insisting upon a provision to relieve them of payments if Germany should default in reparations remittances and the Americans refusing to accept a plan making the effectiveness of an agreement dependent upon conditions in a third country.

By Associated Press.

Washington, April 30.—A fight over ratification of the new Franco-American debt settlement began in the Senate before the settlement itself had been formally received from the White House.

Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, implacable foe of the Italian and other debt agreements recently ratified, reopened his attack on the American Debt Commission, which he said had gone further than the law creating it had intended.

The commission's policies were defended by Senator Smoot, Republican, of Utah, one of the members who declared the negotiators had only done what Congress expected them to do in negotiating settlements based on the capacity of the debtors to pay.

Before the debate started, President Coolidge had sent the French settlement to the capitol with a request that it be ratified, but the parliamentary situation prevented immediate presentation in the senate.

Judge Hicks Replies to Critics of County Administration

To the Democratic Voters and Citizens of Navarro County:

In view of the fact that certain misrepresentations and statements have appeared in the press concerning myself personally and my official acts as presiding officer of the Commissioners' Court of Navarro county, and in justice to the truth and for the purpose of acquainting you with the true facts concerning the financial affairs of the county, I take this method of correcting the statements and inferences which were made.

I desire to state that I am not now and never have been a member of the Ku Klux Klan. I am now and always have been opposed to the domination of the county affairs of the people by any clique or klan. I never have been nor will I ever be dominated by any particular clique or group of citizens of Navarro county. While I have held the office of County Judge of Navarro county I have refused to be dominated by any clique or ring. I have sought to be the County Judge of the citizens of Navarro county. I have conferred no special favor upon any person or group of persons, and I have refused to countenance or become affiliated with any political clique or klan.

With reference to the construction of the Navarro county jail and other public improvements in the county I have no apology to make. I desire, however, to state the truth concerning the erection of the new county jail and other public improvements that have taken place during my present term of office as County Judge. It is true that in 1924 the Commissioners' Court submitted to the citizens of the county the question of whether or not they should issue warrants for the purpose of constructing a new jail. It is true that at this election a majority of the citizens, who voted at said election, voted against tthe issuing of warrants for the purpose of constructing a jail for Navarro county. It is also true that a minority of the qualified voters of the county voted at this election. The people did not vote against the building of a jail. They voted against the issuing of warrants for said purpose. The present Commissioners' Court, consisting of three of the members of the previous Commissioners' court voted unanimously for the erecting of a new county jail. The County Judge is only the presiding officer of the Commissioners' Court and is not entitled to a vote unless there is a tie. Since I have been County Judge I have only voted one time and this vote was on a minor matter. I make these statements for the purpose of showing the true facts concerning the action of the Court in the awarding of the contract for the construction of the new jail. The financial affairs of the county are in the hands of the Commisisoners' Court and not in the hands of the County Judge. The citizens of the county are represented by four commissioners who have made a success of their own business affairs and in my judgment the county is very fortunate in having this type of citizens to represent it in the administration of the financial affairs of the county.

At the time I took office on the first day of January, 1925, there was available to the credit of the general fund the sum of $1,313.92. There has been collected from various sources and placed to the credit of the general fund from January 1, 1925, to April 1, 1926, the sum of $222,684.69. There has been expended by the present Commisisoners' Court for the purpose of public improvements out of this fund the sum of approximately $110,000.00. These public improvements were necessary and were made without the necessity of issuing of warrants, or the voting of bonds and without the necessity of increasing the tax rate for the general fund. These expenditures were made by a vote of the Commissioners' Court in open session and the contracts in every instance were awarded to the lowest and best bidders. There is now due this fund from the 1925 taxes the sum of approximately $25,000.00. This amount is being withheld by the oil companies, pending the adjustment of the road tax matter resulting from the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, and is drawing interest at the rate of 6 per cent pending the adjustment of this matter. The Oil companies stand ready and willing to pay this money into the tax collector of Navarro county, and have tendered the money to the tax collector provided he would accept same without the road tax. The tax collector has declined to make this settlement for the reason that the attorney general has held that a settlement could not be made without the payment of the road tax. It is true that the present Commisisoners' Court has spent more than the previous Commissioners' Courts, but they have evidence to substantiate the expenditures made. Deducting the amount that has been expended for public improvements the present Commissioners' Court has not expended any more out of the general fund than the previous Commisisoners' Court over the same period of time.

If the collections to the credit of the general fund for the months of May, June, July, August, September, October, November and December, 1926, equal the collections for the same months for the year 1925, and if the $25,000.00 which is due from the 1925 taxes is paid in before January 1, 1927, there will be on hand to the credit of the general fund an amount in excess of the amount that was on hand on January 1, 1925. I see no reason why there should not be collected during the months from May to January 1, 1927, as much money as there was during the same period of time in 1925, and the oil companies are ready and willing to pay the $25,000.00 due this fund as soon as the tax collector can legally receive it. One of the motives that prompted the Commissioners' Court in making the public improvements at this time was that they believed that it was better business to make these improvements at this time when it could be done without the necessity of issuing warrants, voting bonds or increasing the tax rate than to decrease the tax rate. It is true that the Court could have lowered the general fund tax rate provided they had not made these permanent improvements, but in a course of two or three years it would have necessitated the increase of the tax rate and would have placed a burden upon the permanent citizenship for a long period of time. While we had the tremendous oil valuations it was the judgment of the Commissioners' Court that it would be good business to make the necessary public improvements rather than decrease the tax rate at this time and later place the burden of these improvements upon the permanent resident tax payers of the county. I leave this matter to the judgment of the fair-minded thinking person.

With reference to the insinuation that the Commissioners' Court accepted a bribe by inspecting jail equipment and the insinuation that the contract for the erection of the new jail was made at some other place other than at the court house in Navarro county, Texas, I desire to state as follows: The minutes of the Commissioners' Court disclose the entire proceedings concerning the contract for the erection of the new jail. The minutes of the Commissioners' Court show that on July 25, 1925, by a unanimous vote the Commissioners' Court of Navarro county in open session accepted the proposition of the Southern Steel Company to prepare plans and secifications for the proposed new jail building with the understanding that they were to be paid the standard price of 3 per cent of the contract price of said building and equipment for the preparation of the plans and specifications: provided however, in the event they were the successful bidders when bids were accepted that they would make no charge for the plans and specifications furnished, and provided that if said plans were not used in the construction of the jail that no fee would be paid to the Southern Steel Company for preparing the plans and specifications. All other jail building concerns who do business in Texas were given the same opportunity to submit plans and specifications. On August 10, 1925 the Commissioners' Court in open session at the court house in Navarro county, Texas, by a unanimous vote adopted the plans and specifications as prepared by the Southern Steel Company and the County Judge and the County Auditor were authorized to advertise for bids on said plans and specifications. At this time plans and specifications of the Pauly Jail Company were before the Court and considered along with the plans and specifications of Southern Steel Company. On September 18, 1925, the Commissioners' Court in open session at the court house in Navarro county, Texas, received bids on the proposed new county jail. The bid of the Southern Steel Company was $4,459.00 lower than any other bidder and was $10,000.00 lower than the highest bidder. The Commissioners' Court by a unanimous vote awarded the contract for the construction of the Navarro county jail to the Southern Steel Company. As long as I am County Judge of Navarro county I expect to investigate the material which is purchased for Navarro county and I do not expect to blindly enter into a contract for the expenditure of some $90,000.00 without knowing what I am buying and the character of material that is to be installed in the building which the Commissioners' Court of Naarro county is constructing for the county.

I am making the race for County Judge upon the same platform that I announced in 1924 and upon which the citizens of Navarro county gave me a majority of approximately two thousand votes. I have only one additional plank in my platform and on which I am willing to stand for re-election and that plank is my record as County Judge of Navarro county during my first term of office.

I will be unable to make as close a canvas of the county as I did in 1924 for the reason that I believe that the duties of the office of County Judge should come first and I shall expect to continue to discharge the duties of this office and make my campaign a secondary matter.

Should the people see fit to honor me with the second term to the office of County Judge I assure you that I shall continue to administer the affairs of this office with fairness toward all and with special favors toward none.

Respectfully submitted,
WARREN HICKS,
County Judge.

MAKE THEE AN ARK

Comment on the Uniform International Sunday School Lesson for MAY 2, 1926.

Read Genesis 5.

WM. SOUTHERN, JR.

God's Dealing With Noah.

Scripture Lesson—Gen. 5. 28 to 9.29.

8. And God spake unto Noah, and to his sons with him, saying,

9. And I, behold, I establish my covenant with you, and with your seed after you;

10. And with every living creature that is with you, of the cattle, and of every beast of the earth with you; from all that go out of the ark, to every beast of the earth.

11. And I will establish my covenant with you: neither shall all flesh be cut any more by the waters of a flood; neither shall there any more be a flood to destroy the earth.

12. And God said, This is the token of the covenant which I make between me and you and every living creature that is with you, for perpetual generations:

13. I do set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between me and the earth.

14. And it shall come to pass, when I bring a cloud over the earth that the bow shall be seen in the cloud:

15. And I will remember my covenant, which is between me and you and every living creature of all flesh; and the waters shall no more become a flood to destroy all flesh.

16. And the bow shall be in the cloud; and I will look upon it, that I may remember the everlasting covenant between God and every living creature of all flesh that is upon the earth.

17. And God said unto Noah, This is the token of the covenant, which I have established between me and all flesh that is upon the earth.

Golden Texa—I do set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between me and the earth.—Gen. 9. 13.

When a nation becomes so corrupt, so luxury loving, so useless that it no longer contributes toward the manifest destiny God has prepared for man, God destroys that nation.

This conclusion will come inevitably to the student of history and I include the history of that part of the human race which is laid before us in the study of the Bible.

This it was the inspired writer in the Old Testament tried to teach us when he gave in minute detail the story of the flood and the care of Noah, his family and everything which floated the destroying waters of the flood in the ark.

When man became so wicked that there was no progress, when the civilizations of the earth became a disgrace and were not carrying forward the great purposes of God, those people were destroyed.

The story of the flood is so well authenticated in records of other peoples beside the Hebrews that it becomes an historical event. The Babylonians and the Persians and a hundred other nations all have flood legends. How the people of those days could be so wicked without automobiles, flying machines, telephones, highwaymen, automatic pistols and prohibition it is hard to understand if we credit the reasoning of many wise men of today when they try to account for our present wickedness. It makes us wonder if we are not drifting toward that period of time when destruction awaits us.

We are heartened again when we find that at the insistence of Abram God agreed to spare Sodom and Gomorrah if even ten righteous people could be found in those cities.

From the story of Noah we are told that God liked Noah, that he was a good man and God saved him and his wife and his sons and his son's wives. I should not be surprised if a lot of us should be saved because we were fortunate enough to marry into a good family. I know a lot of men who must depend on this, because they seem to keep their religion in their wife's name.

When we study the Bible story of the flood from this viewpoint it becomes a wonderful inspiration and a glorious promise. God created man and gave him this wonderful world for great purposes and for some glorious destiny. God directs the destiny of his creation and if we read our Bibles from beginning through the New Testament, we may trace all the way the hand of God and his preservation of man through it all as we stumble forward into a better understanding.

I do not object in the least to reading the story of Noah to the children. I well remember what an event it was when as a child one Christmas morning I found a Noah's ark beside my stocking. The painted people, the curious animals, the awkward ark furnished many a day of pleasure and I learned also that the makers of the animals had used a paint which was harmless when touched by a childish tongue. Even as a child from this toy I got an idea that God would take care of his children. I think this idea impressed itself much more strongly than any thought of the punishment of the balance who had no ark.

And when we gathered about the table in the evening and father read about the flood it was all very real, God's hand was very close to us in those days. At the end of the story was the rainbow. Here was the emblem of God's promise to man. It was a promise to the childish mind that there would be no more floods, but now I understand that it is his promise to mankind of His gracious protection and care and love through all time.

Many times since the flood has God destroyed nations because they have forgotten His commands. All you need to do is to send your mind back over the centuries and study the rise and fall of nations. It is not necessary to name them. They came through virtue and chivalry and truth and labor and luxury and wickedness and idleness and then God destroyed them. He did not send another flood, neither did he send a fire of devouring flame. He raised up men and women who were his instruments and through whom he worked to accomplish his purpose.

And so through a succession of ages has come down to us unimpaired God's promises which He has never broken. Every succeeding nation gives to the one which follows a Noah who has been fitted and prepared and saved for that purpose.

Religious persecutions and religious slavery sent Christian men and women to the bleak shores of New England and the United States sprang by a slow process of evolution into the outstanding, the strongest, the freest nation of the earth.

Those who see only the bad and who promise only destruction do not understand the lessons of the years. Every time a nation is destroyed there rises upon its ruins one stronger and better and one which carries forward the wishes of Almighty God to the development of the future. We do not know what it will be, we can not even conceive its glories, but it lies in God's hands and we need have not fear but that there will always be a Noah to survive.

This doctrine is not hard to believe if we will for a woment stop and review what has happened to us within fifty years, so short a space of time in the infinity of God's plans as to be negligible. The secrets. He has opened before us, the wonders of what we far want of a better name call electricity, the power to whisper across an ocean and to know that our thoughts are carried in perfect intelligence to understanding ears, the power to fly in the air, the control of space and time, all these are but parts in the mosaic of God's plan for us.

In a magazine story of the adventures of William Walker who led an ill fated expedition into Nicaragua these words are put into his mouth by the writer. Said Walker: "Destiny is as infallible as nature. It is the mysterious force which provides that a certain man shall be born on a certain day, that a certain talent shall come to fruition at the required time, that a certain race shall be endowed with the qualities requisite to national greatness, and then give the opportunities to demonstrate them. Destiny it life."

Follow the story of Noah, the record of the Caesars, the great men of England, the recent heroes of our own country, the Washington's, the Jeffersons, the Franklin's the Lincoln's the Lees, the Clevelands, the Roosevelts and the Wilsons and you will almost adopt Walker's idea of Manifest Destiny.

We who are studying the Bible to find out what it means to tell us and who read there of Abraham, Joseph, Moses, David and then Jesus and His mission, do not call it Destiny, but God.—The Republic Syndicate.

FRENCH FRANC IS SEEKING NEW LOW LEVELS ON MARKET

By Associated Press.

Paris, April 30.—The franc refusing to react favorably to the conclusion of the Franco-American debt settlement, continued its steady decline throughout the day, and closed at 30.49 to the dollar, a new low record.

Financial quarters said this was partly accounted for by the lack of precise information here regarding the terms of the debt settlement and also by the doubt in the minds of some as to where the country was going to obtain the money to pay the debt installments to England and America this year.

New York, April 30.—Despite the agreement reached at Washington to fund the French debt, French francs today continued to hover around their record low level. Early dealings in the currency were made at 3.28 cents, within a half point of yesterday's extreme low, while a sympathetic reaction carried the Belgian franc down to a new minimum price for the year at 3.36 cents.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR SLAIN PROSECUTOR OF CHICAGO THIS AFTERNOON

By Asociated Press.

Chicago, May 1.—William H. McSwiggin, youthful state's attorney, was laid to rest today while police search for the slayers and the machine gun used in killing him and two companions Tuesday night remained non-productive of results.

Full church and military honors were accorded the "Hanging Prosecutor," Chicago officialdom and civic leaders putting aside until this afternoon the investigation to pay final respects to the youth who at 26 had established a brilliant record.

A military escort was provided because during the world war he was a lieutenant in the reserve corps.

At the time similar rites were held for James J. Doherty, saloon keeper and gangster, and Thomas Duffy, saloon keeper slain with McSwiggin, when gangsters in another automobile poured machine gun fire into the victim's car.

Despite failure of hundreds of officers to penetrate the mystery, the Chicago detective bureau felt that it had the best clew yet found in the admission of Alex V. Korecek, young hardware dealer, that he knew the men who had purchased from him three machine guns.

After two days of almost constant questioning, Korecek promised to identify today the purchasers of the lethal weapons, despite threats that he would be killed if he told.

The controversy between civic leaders and Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, over the method of investigation of the assassinations and conditions generally continued to rage today.

Harry Eugene Kelly, head of the Non-Partisan Union League club, stated that the special grand jury called yesterday by Mr. Crowe did not "fill the bill." Nor did Mr. Crowe's action in calling in Oscar Carlstrom, state's attorney meet approval.

"A grand jury called on Mr. Crowe's own motion and under circumstances and conditions which will leave Mr. Crowe in the position of overpowering leadership will not be such a grand jury as will investigate Mr. Crowe's office or Mr. Crowe himself," said Mr. Kelly.

He added that Mr. Crowe, in effect, had tied the State attorney general's hands. "I should advise Mr. Carlstrom either to take over the whole inquiry upon his own responsibility or to stay out of it entirely," said Mr. Kelly.

Among the first witnesses subpoenaed for appearance before coroner's jury of six business men was Judge William V. Brothers, acting chief justice of the criminal courts, who granted Mr. Crowe's appeal for the special grand jury.

Five priests officiated at the McSwiggin rites. Flowers filled several automobiles. Porches and roofs near the McSwiggin home and the church were filled with persons anxious to see the procession and the notables in it.

BATTLE BETWEEN SUSPECTED THIEF AND OFFICER FATAL

By Associated Press.

Winnfield, La., May 1.—R. E. Boyette, deputy sheriff, was fatally wounded and a man believed to have been Ray Rayburn, paroled convict from the United States prison at Leavenworth, Kas., was instantly killed in a pistol duel here today.

Deputy Sheriff Bryant Sholars was wounded in the exchange of shots and was taken to a hospital at Alexandria in a serious condition. Boyette died in an ambulance. The shooting occurred at a Winnfield home where the man, identified as Rayburn by a parole in his room, was living. The deputies sought to question him about a furniture robbery.

City Watchman Dave Moore reported that he had heard a noise in the rear of a furnitupre store and on investigation surprised a man in the act of robbery, who seized the watchman's revolver before he could use it.

Moore reported the incident to the sheriff's office and the two deputies went to the home where the man, believed to be Rayburn, had a room, to investigate. Then it was that Rayburn opened fire on Boyette. Scholars returned the fire and Rayburn was instantly killed.

Rayburn has been in Winnfield about one month. A parole from the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, dated January, 1926, was found in his room. Rayburn's 16-year-old wife is being held in jail She said that she and Rayburn were married in Wharton, Texas, about three months ago. She said that her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horton, and a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Roark, live at 1919 Holliday street, Wichita Falls, Texas.

CEMETERY USED CLEARING HOUSE RUM RUNNERS

By Associated Press.

Manchester, N. H., April 30.—The city's bootleggers have established an "exchange" in Mount Calvary Cemetery.

A story of midnight gatherings in the shadows of a large tombstone where local bootleggers receive their allotments from rum runners who import the contraband, was told in court yesterday by Clasis Auguer.

Auguer was on trial on a liquor charge that resulted from the discovery of a quantity of liquor buried just outside the cemetery wall. He declared that at times there were so many automobiles at the cemetery that the line-up resembled a funeral procession rather than a gathering of bootleggers.

ONLY NEGRO WOMAN AVIATOR AND WHITE MAN KILLED TODAY

By Associated Press.

Jacksonville, Fla., April 30.—Bessie Coleman, said to be the only negro woman aviator, was killed here today while piloting an airplane in a practice flight. William D. Wills, aged 24, of Dallas, airplane salesman who had delivered the machine to the woman for exhibition flights to have been started here tomorrow, also lost his life, when the plane turned over and fell 2,000 feet. The woman tumbled out but Wills fell with the plane.

John T. Betsch of the Jacksonville Negro Welfare League, who had accompanied the two to the field, struck a match to light a cigarette shortly after the plane fell and the gasoline was ignited consuming Will's body.

Betsch was detained by police.

Wills left Love Field Dallas, last week with the airplane.

STOCKHOLDERS OF FORD'S RAILROADS OBJECT TO MERGER

By Associated Press.

Washington, May 3.—The proposal to merge the Detroit and Ironton and the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroads, controlled by Henry Ford, was characterized by stockholders of the latter road in a brief filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission today as a "tail wagging the dog" proposition.

"The shallowness of pretense," the brief asserted, "is shown by the form of the application under which an eminently prosperous road, owning approximately 460 miles of railroad, is to be delivered over, lock, stock and barrel, to a eleven mile road having at the present time a capital stock of only $1,000,000 and owning none of the necessary equipment for operation.

STRIKE DECLARED IN ALL INDUSTRIES IN BRITAIN TUESDAY

VARIOUS TRADES UNION WORKERS WILL GO TO AID OF MINERS

London, May 1.—Great Britain faces a general strike as a result of the coal miners' strike of one millon men against lower wages and increased hours.

Representatives of 203 trades unions, comprising five million workers, with enormous financial resources met today and decided to back up the miners by ceasing work in all the vital services next Tuesday unless a settlement of the miners' dispute is reached.

The government, aroused by the walkout of the miners, who laid down their tools at midnight, when the governmental subsidy expired, issued a proclamation that "a state of emergency exists." This proclamation under the law gives the government almost unlimited powers, to be exercised in protecting the general public from suffering through curtailment of the vital necessities.

Some hope remains that the negotiations between the coal owners and the miners may be reopened but the hope is very faint.

The position of the miners' dispute is briefly this: A government subsidy was granted last July to assist the coal industry, which was said to be losing money. This subsidy, used to maintain the scale of wages, expired at midnight last night.

Pending re-organization of the industry along the lines recently recommended by an expert commission appointed by the government, the owners were faced with the necessity of running the mines on their own resources.

They offered a miners uniform national minimum wage twenty per cent higher than that obtaining in 1914, but representing a reduction of 13 1-2 per cent in the present wages.

The owners also insisted upon an eight-hour day instead of seven. The miners refused to accept either wage reduction or the lengthening of hours.

The government's first concern is to provide for the milk and food supply of the metropolitan areas of London and the other thickly populated centers and the Board of Trade is intensely preparing for an emergency.

Hyde Park again has been turned into a place of assembly for hundreds of motor vehicles for relief work, recalling war time days and previous big strikes.

The general council of the Trades Union Congress has issued a detailed memorandum regarding the trades and unions which have been called upon to cease work Tuesday. It is understood that the safety men in all the coal mines throughout the country will be allowed to continue work in order to prevent damage to the mines.

The industries affected in the general strike order includes: Transportation, railways, seas, docks, harbors, roads, and railway repair shops, unions connected with maintenance of air transport and the printing trades including the press; productive industries in iron, steel, heavy chemicals and building trades except those on hospital work; electricity and gas, including power lines.

The council has recommended that there be no interference in the sanitary services, health, food and hospital supplies.

Labor officials and cabinet members continued today to seek a solution of the miners' difficulty, which is variously declared as a "strike" and "lockout." They will continue their efforts over the week-end but the situation is desperate. With no transportation much of the country, including London, bids fair to walk from Monday midnight. Food prices already have risen.

The strike will cost the country millions of pounds daily, and undoubtedly it will cause great suffering.

The American tourist trade which is just starting with a rush will be probably killed, officials say.

By Associated Press.

London, May 1.—A general strike in support of the coal miners has been declared for next Tuesday. The decision was reached to call out the employes in the vital services, including the transport workers, if settlement of the miners' dispute is not reached before Tuesday.

The government proclaimed that "a state of emergency exists" in consequence of the coal strike. It thus assumes power granted by the Throne, to employ troops or take any other measures necessary to maintain order and insure the welfare of the population. Meanwhile Great Britain's coal mining industry was at a standstill with more than a million miners idle, as a result of failure by the mine owners and their employes to reach an agreement regarding wages and hours.

Troops Are in Readiness.

London, May 1.—The British Government today moved detachments of trops into the coal mining areas of South Wales, Lancashire and Scotland. The movement, characterized "purely as a precautionary measure," is to assist the police in maintaining order during the miners' strike.

Markets

Cotton Market Unsteady.

By Associated Press.

New York, May 3.—The cotton market seemed to be more impressed by unfavorable weather reports than by the British labor troubles at the opening today. Early cables from Liverpool were weak but there was a sharp recovery there, and the local market opened steady at a decline of three points to an advance of one point.

There was a good deal of buying at the start, and prices held very steady during the first hour, May selling up to 18.68 or even with Saturday's losing quotation while later deliveries showed net advances of three to six points with October selling at 17.37.

The market turned easier after the early buying orders had been supplied. Private reports indicated that showers had been more beneficial than otherwise in some parts of the south and as nervousness over weather conditions subsided, offerings increased slightly. May contracts eased off from 18.68 and October from 17.73 to 17.77 with active months showing net losses of about 4 to 7 points at midday.

After working off to 18.59 for May and 17.26 for October, or about five to nine points net lower, the market steadied on detailed weather reports showing a good deal of rain in the southwest and parts of the central belt. Trading remained quiet, but the market was holding around 18.62 for May and 17.29 for October at 2 o'clock, or about 3 to 6 points net higher.

New Orleans Market Unsettled.

By Associated Press.

New Orleans, May 3.—The cotton market opened steady notwithstanding poor Liverpool cables due to the strike situation in Great Britain. First trades showed a loss of one point on July and gains of 2 points on new crop months. Prices eased off a few points after the call, July trading to 17.55, October at 16.68 and December at 16.68, or 2 to 4 points under Saturday's close. Toward the end of the first hour prices rallied a few points on the weather map showing rain in the belt.

The market ruled quiet all morning, trading being restricted by possible developments in the general strike conditions in Great Britain. Prices eased off owing to the forecast for favorable weather in the west, July trading to 17.50, October and December to 16.63. The market appeared to be dominated by the weather with the British strike a secondary bearish influence.

The market eased off after midsession due to weakness in the stock market resulting from the uncertainty of a general strike in England. July traded down below the early highs. In the early afternoon the market was steadier and prices rallied 3 to 4 points from the lows on buying based on the recent bad weather in the belt.

Wheat Market Inclined Downward.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, May 3.—Bearish private crop estimates tended to turn the wheat market here downward today after an early advance. Strength at the outset was due to higher Liverpool quotatious associated with the British labor crisis, but a majority of traders here were inclined to regard the strike to be an incentive to sell rather than to buy. The opening, quarter to cent to 3-8c higher May (new) 1.64 3-4 to 1.65 1-2 and July 1.43 3-4 to 144 was followed by a general drop in which May touched 1.63 1-4 and July 1.42 5-8. Corn and oats followed the trend of wheat. After opening 1-8 cent to 3-8 advance, July 76 7-8 to 77c corn underfent a moderate sag.

Oats started a shade to 1-8 to 1-4 higher, July 42 1-8c. Later all months showed a slight loss. In line with hog values the provision market was steady.

New York, May 3.—The British general strike developments cast a shadow of gloom today over all financial and commodity markets. Prices of many leading stocks broke three to ten points, sterling exchange dropped nearly a cent below last week's high level to the lowest price since aJnuary, French and Belgian currencies sank to record low levels, active wheat futures slumped over three cents a bushel and moderate recessions took place in cotton and most of the other principal commodities market.

British Strike Affects Stocks.

By Associated Press

New York, May 3.—A sharp reaction in prices took place at the opening of today's stock market, presumably on selling inspired by the British labor crisis. Initial declines of one to two points were recorded by United States Steel common, General Motors, Mack Trucks, International Combustion, Famous Players and Delaware and Hudson.

The first outbreak of selling carried prices down 1 to nearly five points, but strong buying support quickly developed and a good sized rally was under way before the end of the first hour. General Electric, which sold down to 4 3-4, quickly made up three points of its loss, and General Motors made up most of its early decline of 1 3-4. South Porto Rican Sugar, Air Reduction, United States Drug American Woolen preferred, Baldwin, American Ice and Sloss Sheffield Steel were depressed 1 1-2 to 3 points. Oils and rails offered stubborn resistance to selling pressure. Heavy buying of Radio Corporation common, which advanced a point, was one of the early features.

Foreign exchanges were weak. Demand Sterling fell back 9-16 on a cent to 4.85 1-4, French francs touched a new record low at 3.27c, and Belgian francs at 3.28.

GROESBECK WELL REPORTED GUSHER RESULT CLEANING

Reports came from Groesbeck Monday that the Pure Oil Company's deep well on the Stafford, completed some time ago, had increased its flow considerably by the gas pressure shooting oil over the derrick. The well had been cleaned out at the bottom and the new production increase was a very agreeable surprise. Oil went over the crown block for a time, after which it was shut in and turned into the tanks.

A salt core was taken in the Haynes et al test in Henderson county at 3,059 feet, it was reported in oil circles here.

Kerr & Gillette will drill deeper on the test near Roane. A dry sand core was taken Saturday.

J. O. Osborne has completed a derrick on the Mitchell tract, one mile southwest of Tupelo, where he will put down a deep oil test, work to start as soon as the machinery can be placed. This proposition had been in the making for some time, and now it is definitely decided that the hole will be put down.

FARMERS ADVISED VARIETIES OF CORN YET TO BE PLANTED

CERTAIN KINDS WILL MAKE FAIR CROP, COUNTY AGENT STATES

Among the varieties of corn which may still be sown by Navarro county farmers with reasonable assurance of a fair turn out, Henry Gentry, county agent, named the following Monday: 90 day Yellow Dent, Sure Cropper, Squaw and Mexican dwarf corn.

There is still plenty of time for the grain sorghums, millet, Sudan grass and the like, said Mr. Gentry.

With sufficient sunshine to mature the heads, reports indicate Navarro county will have some of the finest winter grain turn outs in some years. The acreage of the winter crops is small, however, compared to the best farming standards.

In connection with the Chamber of Commerce plans to be of greater service to farmers, Mr. Gentry plans to make it a point to be in the Chamber of Commerce on West Fifth avenue on Saturdays to confer with farmers who come into the city and seek information.

Saturday has been named as farmers' day at the Chamber and they re invited to make the office their downtown headquarters while in the city.
